

Prof. A.K. Singh

Professor A.K. Singh (Born 1950) retired as Professor in the Department of History of Art, Banaras Hindu University. He did his graduation in Science, Post graduation and Ph.D. in History of Art from Banaras Hindu University. He has taught as Assistant Professor in the Faculty of Visual Arts at Banaras Hindu University and Guest Professor in the Institute of Central Asian Studies and Oriental Art at the University of Bonn, Germany. Professor Singh has extensive experience of research and fieldwork in the Indo China border region of Western Himalayas. He has to his credit publication of five books, more than three dozens of research papers. His research publications on Western Himalayan Art are internationally acclaimed. Besides working in international projects, he has lectured in European universities and actively participated in international seminar and conferences abroad. He is regular fieldworker and also collaborating in the preparation of DNA database of some tribes located in remote Himalayas for the research project of CCMB.